Report / Comments	The Welsh Border club had the pleasure this year of hosting the International show with teams from Wales, England and Scotland taking part. I think it is safe to say that the standard of birds on display was outstanding with most of the best birds in the country on display. Phil Warne took ythe top honour of best border in show with a superb hen also taking the next four top honours. 6th and 7th best in show was taken by Tom Foster and Graham Burgess respectively. The judges did an exellent job taking into account the consistently high standard of the birds on display. What was particularly pleasing was the number of novices involved 260 and the standard again was superb with most of the successful novices this year attending. Paul Tooth deservedly came out of top with a very strong team of birds but was pushed all the way by several other top Novices, which included Kevin Crook, Andrew Ormand, J Forgie and W perks. Full report will follow but a big Thankyou to all involved in what was an excellent show.

I almost forgot Wales actually won the International Competition with England just behind in second place. We will find out when Wales last won but there seems nobody seems to remember !!
